FEDERAL COOK BOOK OUT.

Uncle Sam's Official Chefs Give Some New Recipes.

Besides giving the public the latest and most scientific information on growing corn or wheat, or raising hogs, Secretary Wilson's department, through the office of agricultural experiment stations, is giving the housewives of the country some new recipes which have an appeal to the appetite that seems hard to resist. Two of the latest are written by the official chefs on the preparation of the ever-popular sweet potato, telling how to make sweet potato cobbler and how to bake sweet potatoes and apples to please the most fastidious epicure. Here are "Tama Jim's" cookery secrets:

"For sweet potato cobbler, prepare the mashed beaten sweet potatoes as for sweet potato pie, and fill a dish with alternate layers of biscuit dough or some similar crust and sweet potato. The dough should be rolled out quite thin and spread with the sweet potato mixture in layers about a quarter inch thick. Add to each layer just enough water to give the crust, when cooked, the consistency of peach or other fruit cobbler crust.

Bake until thoroughly done, and serve hot with drawn butter or hard sauce.

"The recipe for sweet potatoes baked with apples is as follows: Wash four medium-sized potatoes, peel, and cut the potatoes in slices about a quarter inch thick; pare and slice the same number of apples in the same way. Put the sweet potatoes and apples in a baking dish in alternate layers, sprinkle by cups of sugar over the top, scatter one-half cup of butter also over the top; add three-quarters of a pint of hot water; bake slowly for one hour; serve steaming hot."

Miss Elsie McLean Bride of Paul C. Patterson.

NOTABLE LIST OF GUESTS

Persian Charge d'Affaires Leases Home in Sixteenth Street as Reception-Place for Miss Elsie McLean, Bride of Paul C. Patterson.

The Secretary of the Interior and Mrs. Ballinger will spend the winter at Stoneleigh Court, where the Secretary has taken an apartment. Mrs. Ballinger will join her husband on December 2. They have formerly lived at the Shoreham while in the city.

One of the most beautiful weddings of the season took place yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in St. Margaret's Episcopal Church, when Miss Elsie McLean, daughter of Capt. Walter McLean, U. S. N., and Mrs. McLean, became the bride of Paul C. Patterson. The church was handsomely decorated with palms and white chrysanthemums, and clusters of flowers adorned the altar and choir pews. The bridal party passed down an aisle of flowers formed of white chrysanthemums and tulips. Reserve pews for the families were marked with white ribbons and tall standards of white chrysanthemums, and the bride couple knelt upon a white satin prie-dieu, decorated with clusters of white roses. Mr. Edgerton, the organist of St. Margaret's Church, played the wedding music and an appropriate musical programme, including several Scotch and Irish songs. The seating of the guests, the bride and groom, preceded the bride party to the altar where Dr. Ralph Walker McDowell, U. S. N.; Walter Dayton, of Towanda, Pa.; Wallace Donald McLean, and Dr. W. Browne Jarvis, Mr. Julian Patterson, of Chicago, brother of the bridegroom, acted as his best man, and the bride was escorted and given in marriage by her father, Capt. McLean. She wore a rich gown of white tulle, with a high collar and deep flounce of point lace on the skirt, a full court train, and the bodice draped in chiffon and rose point lace in kerchief effect. Her veil was held in place by a double-headed tiara and a pair of pearl earrings, and on her slippers she wore pearl buckles, heirlooms in her family. She carried a cascade of lilies of the valley and orchids.

Mrs. William A. Dallam, wife of Capt. Dallam, U. S. A., and Mrs. Charles Day Palmer attended the bride as matrons of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Sue Kessler Watson, of New York; Miss Katherine Johnson, of New York; Miss Lenly of Washington, and Miss Mathilda Auerbach, of Washington and St. Paul. Mrs. Dallam wore a gown of white satin veiled in net, with trimmings of crystal and American beauty chiffon at the top of the bodice and around the skirt, and a deep flounce of point lace on the skirt, a full court train, and the bodice draped in chiffon and rose point lace in kerchief effect. Her veil was held in place by a double-headed tiara and a pair of pearl earrings, and on her slippers she wore pearl buckles, heirlooms in her family.
